The great thing about vik is that he doesn't do the delivery job, he has a passion for ocean sailing.

Navigating with him in command is not only sailing with an expert captain, who knows how to choose the routes where there are no routes, who knows how to find the wind and avoid the storms, but it is sailing with a careful, tireless and above all happy captain to be in in the middle of the ocean!

I, a long-time navigator, crossed the Atlantic from Cuba to the Azores with Vik and it was the most serene and fun crossing ever, thanks Vik!
